

The Flight Plan

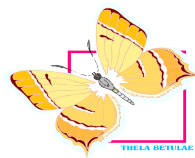

Hello Chrysalis Community!

A lot is going on in the Clark household. But God continues to remind me daily that He is in control.

In all of this we are learning to walk the walk of Faith and trusting the Lord for all our provision. Several scriptures have sustained us in all of the changes. Jer 29 - "I know the plans I have for you. . ." is the one that I stand on everyday.

We just rented and watched "Evan Almighty"; I really like the part when Evan tells God that building an ark is not in his plans. God just laughs! So I "wait on the Lord" for His plans. Because our plans or not as good and rewarding as what He has for us.

God Bless You!
Rosanne Clark

My Next Steps

Before Chrysalis, my relationship with God was at a standstill. I had been on several mission trips and had grown a little closer to God each time, but never knew where to go from there. My fire died down after a few weeks, and my devotion diminished. After my flight, however, I had unexplainable feelings that I never knew I had. From that moment forward, I felt like a part of me was filled, and I never wanted that felling to go away.

To me, it is very important to know that there is a whole community that has the same love for Christ that I do, and I want to be able to spread and share that love with others. Ever since my flight, the idea that I might be the come connected with other people who have the same passion for Christ. life. It is a great way to become connected with God, and a great way to b.

I recommend Chrysalis to anyone reaching for a deeper faith and anyone looking for stability in his/her only Bible people ever see or read has had a great affect on me. I am now much more conscious about what example I set for others and I realize that one action or word I say could change someone's life.

How Is a Chrysalis Team Chosen?

Just how is the team for a Chrysalis weekend selected? Well, there are many steps that go into team formation. It starts with PRAYER. Once the Lay Director (LD) is chosen (months before the flight), a Team Selection Committee meets. This committee is made up of youth and adults from all over the NWO community. Names for all prospective team members are PRAYED over before and after given to the LD. Then the LD PRAYS over who to call from the list of names he/she is given, and continues to call youth and adults until all team slots are filled. The team "ideally" should consist of 1/3 experienced, 1/3 somewhat experienced (previous service on 1 or 2 teams), and 1/3 very experienced youth and adults.

There is approximately 25 people per team, not including the LD and Spiritual Directors. It is important to remember that serving on a team is NOT the only way to serve the weekend and your Chrysalis community. Help is always needed with logistics, social and kitchen. It takes more than the team in the conference room for a Chrysalis weekend to be effective.

Chrysalis Reunion—You Are Invited!

All butterflies are invited to come out on Saturday, December 8, 2007, in the Zone, from 6:00 to 7:30 pm for the Chrysalis Reunion to be held at Maumee UMC.

It is a time for all those who have attended a Chrysalis weekend to welcome the newest butterflies into the community and reconnect with butterflies from the past. Please bring food to share.

You can go to www.nwochrysalis.org to find sign-up opportunities for weekends. Remember that while serving on a team is a wonderful way to give back, there are many ways God can use you!
